Spotty rains worth $1 million

Rains valued in excess of $1 million fell on Medina County during the last week. Although continued showers were termed "spotty" by Medina County Agricultural Agent Glenn Bragg, they were sufficient to break the drouth in some sections.

Bragg said rainfall measurements up to Tuesday morning varied from an inch to four inches.

"Some gauges in the Yancey area," Bragg said, "had accumulated three and four inches. North of Hondo above US 90, gauges registered about two inches on many farms and ranches."

"I feel the rain we've had has saved the county well over a million dollars," Bragg said Tuesday morning.

However, he said, the soil is wet only five or six inches deep.

"To really get our sub soil wet, we'll have to have more rain," Bragg said.

The county agent said recent rains have "... really helped us as far as grass growth..." is concerned. He said grass growth will keep cattle off the market. He said cattle prices can be expected to rise since there will be a demand for cows to put on new growths of grass.

Where grass has been grazed down to the ground, Bragg said there should be plenty of new growth in two weeks.

"If it hasn't been grazed to the ground," he added, "it should grow faster than the cows can eat it if ranchers don't overstock their pastures."

Grain sorghum crops that are up will benefit from the rains, too, he said.

"Fields that were sitting there burning up will make a head and will give us some production if there's no insect damage," Bragg predicted.

The rains helped corn, too, Bragg said.

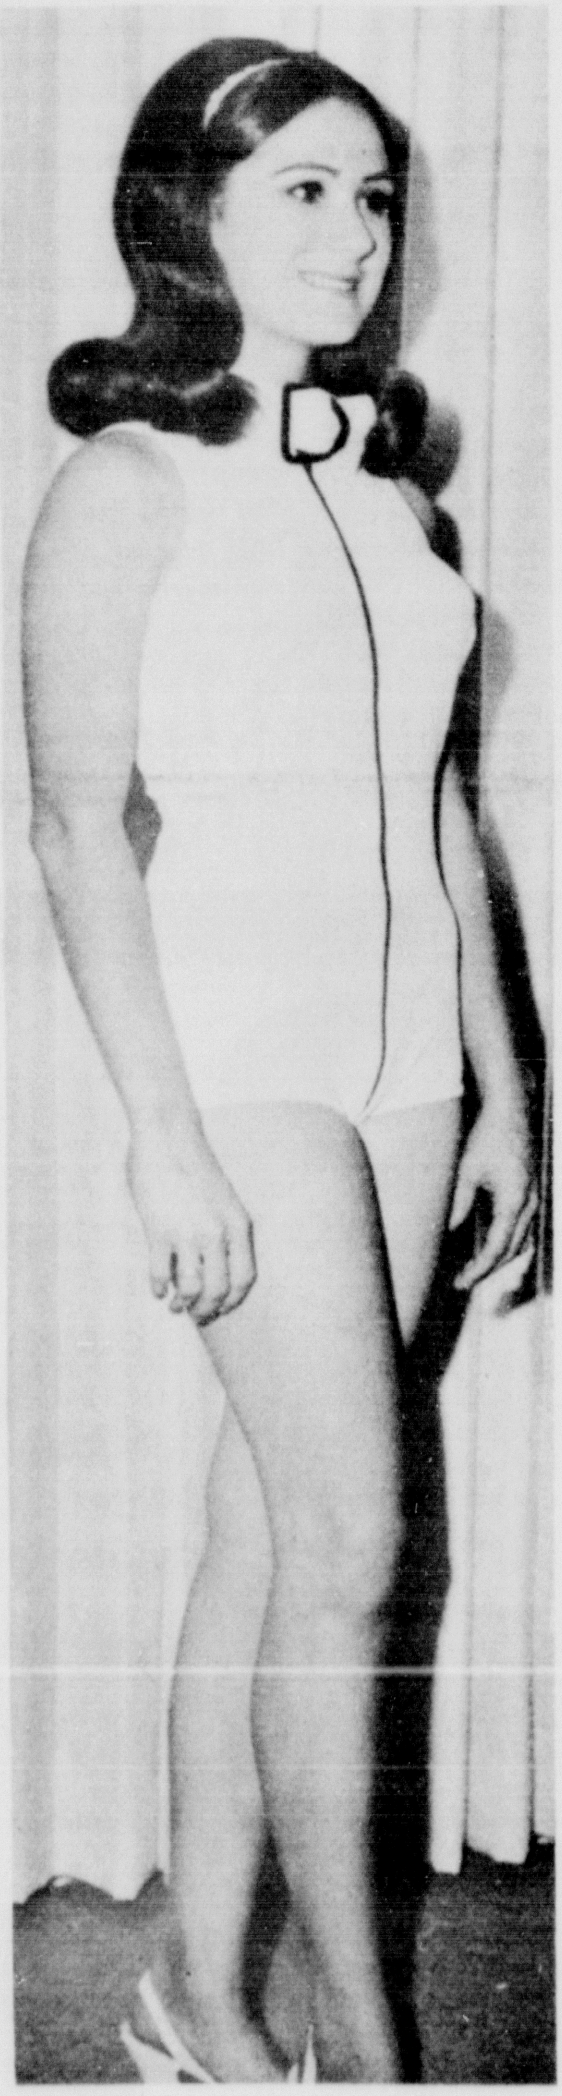

"We'll make a few crops, and I'd estimate that the rain has increased the corn yield four to five bushels an acre," The increase, he said, would amount to an additional $8 an acre income for producers.

However, he said that if the sun comes out and it gets hot, the area will need additional rain in about two weeks. If skies remain cloudy, however, benefits of recent rains will last twice that long, he said.

Miss Georgia Ruth Landers

Georgia enters pageant

Miss Georgia Ruth Landers, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Landers of Hondo, will compete for the title of Miss South Texas in Seguin during July 4th festivities on Sunday. She is entered in the contest as Miss Medina County.

Miss Landers, who will be a senior at Hondo High School next year, served as Miss Hondo of 1970 by representing this city at many public functions throughout South Texas.

She had been chosen first runner-up in the 1970 contest. When the 1970 winner, Miss Susan Cusenbery, moved from Medina County and was married, Miss Landers assumed the responsibilities of the title but was too young to compete in the official Miss South Texas contest.

She will perform a modern jazz dance routine in the talent portion of the contest.

Grand finale of the Miss South Texas revue will begin at 4 p.m. at Starcke Park, poolside, Seguin.

DREAM FULFILLED

Thanks to the boss the Lawrence family had a dream come true this past week.

We attended the Texas Press Association convention in Austin and on its agenda was a trip to LBJ Country and a personal visit with President Johnson. As personal, that is, as you can get with some 450 persons tagging along.

But we did meet him and our daughters, Terri and Debbie, had their pictures taken with him.

But somehow I think I was just as thrilled as the girls. For I have always been, and will continue to be, the New York Times notwithstanding, a staunch supporter of President Johnson. I firmly believe he accomplished more for the common people, of which I definitely am one, than any other president in the history of our country.

So it certainly was an honor for me to meet this man.

Oh, yes the girls have one up on me. They got the autograph of Phyllis George, Miss America, while I had to be content to sit back and watch.

MEDIA VS THE COUNTRY

Somehow I just cannot miss an opportunity to make a comment on the present furor about publishing the Secret Pentagon papers.

I see it as a battle of the big press against the government. The big news media, television, magazines and large newspapers, want to be in a stronger position to dictate the policy both foreign and domestic of the entire United States. They do now to a certain extent, but they are greedy and want more power.

I do not believe they have a right to print the papers so long as they are classified. And neither do I believe any newspaper, television or magazine executive has the right at any time to overrule the classification set by the government on documents.

And I further believe that the person or persons who released the secret documents to any news media is guilty of treason.

Now I know that there probably are many papers carrying classifications too high for their content. But it is not the prerogative of the New York Times to change that classification no matter how concerned it is about the people's right to know. It certainly has a right to begin a battle to declassify all documents that should not carry high classifications, but not to print them before they are declassified.

And somehow I find myself with a sick stomach when I hear and read all this baloney from the big media on "we are doing this because the people have a right to know." In most instances they are doing it because they want a scoop, regardless of

KRME gets veteran manager

Jim Fridle of Cherryville, N. C. will assume management of Radio Station KRME in Hondo on July 6, owner William E. Berger announced this week.

Fridle, who has been in radio work for the past 14 years, will succeed John Seater who will move back to Arizona where he has purchased two weekly newspapers.

The new manager is a native of Racine, Wis., but is no stranger to Texas. After some four years with WRAC in Racine, he moved to Texas to work with KBRZ in Freeport.

Fridle says he will move his family to Hondo as soon as he finds a home for them. "I am sure our family will enjoy making Hondo our home," he says.

From December 1963 until October 1968 he served as news director, operation manager and general manager for KBRZ. From there he moved to Cherryville where he has served as manager of WCSL.

Landmark coming down

Razing of the old First Baptist Church continues at the corner of Avenue K and 20th Street. G. O. Braden has the contract to take the building down and he is doing so brick-by-brick, salvaging as much of the material as possible. This building was erected in 1914 and occupied until 1932 when a fire partially destroyed it. However it was rebuilt and utilized by the congregation until November 22, 1970 when dedication services opened a brand new church building at Avenue P and 24th Street.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Bumis,
I want to express to you my appreciation for the fine conservation edition that you and your staff published Thursday, June 24, 1971. This is a fine tribute to the community and landowners of the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District.
The Soil Conservation Service works hand in hand with the Directors of the Soil Conservation District in trying to protect our natural environment. No one knows better than those close to the land that soil erosion is the greatest cause of pollution than any other source.

On behalf of the Soil Conservation and Directors of the Medina Valley Soil & Water Conservation District we want to thank you for joining with us in the fight against the destruction of our natural resource source, soil and water. If the public will accept its responsibility as you have so informed them, our community and County can be a finer place to live and raise our children.

Sincerely yours,
E. L. Abbott
District Conservationist
Soil Conservation Serv.

Dear Mr. Lawrence:
This is to congratulate you and the Hondo Anvil Herald staff on the excellent Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation Edition you published on Thursday, June 24, 1971.
Also, a vote of appreciation to the many businessmen who contributed with their advertisements. It is heartwarming to know that the businesses and individuals who made this Special Edition possible realize that the future of Medina County is assured by Soil and Water Conservation.

Sincerely,
Darwin Schrader

Bandera church plans dedication

Dedication of the Museum of St. Stanislaus Church is scheduled for Sunday, July 4, with ceremonies to get underway at 11 a. m.
Archbishop Furey and Bishop Flores will concelebrate at field mass on the church grounds.

The museum honors the pioneer Polish, Irish, Mexican and German Catholic families who founded St. Stanislaus Parish and built the first convent and Catholic school in 1874 and the present church in 1876.
A big barbecue beef dinner is planned beginning at 12 noon. Servings will cost $1.50 for adults and .75 for children under 12.

Colored photos of the church will be on sale and all proceeds will go to the setting up of a permanent fund to maintain the St. Stanislaus Church Museum.

No president, including President Nixon for whom I have no great love, can tell the public everything when it comes to dealing with other countries or preparing for contingencies (and this means fighting if need be) around the world.

They are elected to make those decisions and I say let them make them without the help of the New York Times. I don't recall ever seeing the Times on a ballot to be elected as the protectorate of these United States.

- Even on wash days you'll have enough hot water with a modern quick recovery electric water heater on the job.
- The flameless, quick recovery electric water heater gives you gallons of piping hot water. Under normal use, it never runs out! And because an electric water heater is flameless, it needs no vents . . . needs no flue. You can put an electric anywhere.
- End your hot water shortage. See your electric appliance dealer for more information on the new quick recovery electric water heater.

Thieves turn vandals

Thieves who stole Johnny Joe Mendoza's car off a local parking lot in broad daylight certainly did a good job of destroying it after they stripped it of items which would sell. The car was discovered this past weekend on a Farm-to-Market road southwest of San Antonio. The thieves had stripped the three headlights, battery, starter, wheels and other saleable items and then apparently "had fun" breaking the windshields, windows and filling the motor with sand and rocks. The car was a total loss.

Seaters buy Arizona weeklies

John Seater and his wife Lois, who came to Hondo in 1968 to publish and manage the Anvil Herald, are "going back to Arizona" they announced this week.

The two have purchased two weekly newspapers in Kearny and Superior. Both cities are in the copper mining area near Globe where the Seaters lived for many years prior to hanging up the sign "gone to Texas."

They will own and operate the Copper Basin News in Kearny and the Sun in Superior.

or, and will make their home in Kearny. They are somewhat familiar with the Kearny newspaper for they founded it some 10 years ago.

Prior to coming to Hondo Seater served as publisher and general manager for the paper in Globe. The company also printed the Kearny newspaper and operated a commercial printing shop.

He was extremely active in newspaper association and served as president of the Arizona Newspaper Association one year.

John and Lois came to Hondo in July 1968 with their son Richard (Rick) who graduated from Hondo High School in 1970. Their daughter, Gayle, now married and living in Marshall, Texas, was attending university classes in Arizona at that time.

John served as publisher and manager of the Anvil Herald until April 1970 when he assumed management of Radio Station KRME. However, he kept his hand in the newspapering business by writing for the Herald and also serving as business manager for the Associated Texas newspapers.

During these three years, Lois has served the Herald as society editor, general news writer, advertising manager and other duties which have combined to publish a fine weekly newspaper.

Under the direction of Seater the Anvil Herald has specialized in pictures and last year won a first place plaque in news photography and certificates in other categories of the Texas Press Association better newspaper contest.

"John has done us an excellent job at both the newspaper and the radio station," owner William E. Berger said. "And Lois has given fine service at the newspaper. We wish them the best in their venture into owning their own newspapers."

July 4th fete set

There will be thousands of hungry holiday people to banquet, visit and enjoy themselves at St. Joseph's annual Fourth of July celebration and dinner.

Added this year is a huge covered shed 40' x 100' to be used for various games or in case rain, used to shelter persons while eating barbecue.

General chairman this year are Paul Marbach and Ignacio Gamboa. Womens chairmen are Mrs. Arthur Ehlinger and Mrs. Ignacio Gamboa.

St. Joseph's Catholic Church pastor is Father Wilfred Passchyn and Father Michael Maertens.

The huge barbecue will again be held this year under the age old shady oak tree grove along San Francisco Creek in Kellers Park located just three miles west of Devine on Highway 173.

Over 6000 pounds of beef will be started barbecuing on oak and mesquite coals early that morning about 2:00 a.m. Fires will already have been built about 7:00 p.m. the night before on the long pit.

More than 25 women are already getting prepared to start cutting cabbage and readying it for cole slaw. Potato salad used will total about 800 pounds; huge pots of beans will be prepared to satisfy the large crowd. There will be about 300 pounds of beans.

Final preparations are now underway, to ready the grounds, including mowing the parking lots, cleaning and readying the general area.

Assorted booths and concessions are being prepared for amusement.

New tables were built in 1969 to satisfy the people's needs better.

Serving will start about 11:30 a.m. Sunday morning and continue until about 2:00 p.m.

Enjoyment and fun for everyone is promised.

Today's Subject: What Parents Can Do
About Drug Misuse

Except for speeding in a motor vehicle on the highways, Marijuana smoking is likely the most commonly committed crime in the nation. Americans who have experimented with Marijuana smoking at least once may number as many as 20 million persons. It is estimated by the Pentagon in Washington that perhaps as much as 30% of our troops in Vietnam have tried "pot," but most people making the estimates seem to agree that this is a conservative guess. Where surveys have been taken in larger universities the extent of Marijuana users tops 50% of the undergraduates and the figure is rising.

You'll hear the argument, coming most often from very young users of Marijuana, that it is harmless, has no long-lasting effects, and it is not "habit forming." In one recent survey of 200 Marijuana smokers, it was found that 49% had already experimented with LSD, 43% had tried Amphetamines and 24% some form of the Barbiturates. In all of them, two-thirds had used other illegal drugs! If, in the research now underway, Marijuana is proved physically and at the same time medically safe (which is unlikely), isn't it obvious that there still is a definite guilt by association? It seems to form a pattern that the Marijuana user seldom remains ONLY a user of this drug.

Specialists concerned with drug misuse offer these constructive suggestions to parents in dealing with their children:

1. Keep your cool—a level head thinks logically, makes better decisions and generally acts more wisely.
2. Listen to what young people are really trying to tell you. Drugs are not the cause of drug use—at least not initially—there are hundreds of reasons why a child experiments with drugs. Find those potential reasons in your home—family relationships. Correct what might become a dangerous condition BEFORE it can cause serious trouble.
3. Get the facts concerning drugs and make certain you expose your youngsters to this data in an atmosphere of sharing.
4. When setting discipline be very fair... but at the same time be very FIRM.
5. All experts in the field agree on this one being of utmost importance: SET GOOD PARENTAL EXAMPLES! A parent who in effect says, "Do as I say, not as I do," stands little chance of influencing his children for true good.

While many people stand doing little more than hand-wringing, more and more parental groups across the country are setting up drug study meetings which show films on the subject. If your club or organization is interested in having such meetings, here are some suggested films to obtain:

"THE MIND BENDERS"—25 min. Subject, LSD and other hallucinogens. Write: National Medical Audiovisual Center (Annex), Chamblee, Ga., 30005.

"FDA SPECIAL REPORT"—20 min. Subject, Drug Abuse—Bennies and Goofballs. Write same source as for "THE MIND BENDERS."

"FIGHT OR FLIGHT"—16 min. Available for purchase only, 16mm, sound and color. Write Mr. Quinn Tamm, International Association of Chiefs of Police, 1319 18th St., N.E., Washington, D.C., 20036.

"LSD"—25 min., on LSD and hallucinogenic drugs in general. Write: Professional Arts, Inc., P.O. Box 8484, Universal City, Calif., 91608.

"DRUGS AND THE NERVOUS SYSTEM"—18 min., on how drugs affect many different parts of the body by their influence on the central nervous system. Write: Churchill Films, 662 N. Robertson Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

"HIDE AND SEEK"—14 min., actual experiences of a teenager caught by the narcotic habit. Write: Center For Mass Communications, Columbia University Press, 1125 Amsterdam Ave., New York, N.Y., 10025.

It goes without saying that the more complete and basically factual information parents have concerning drugs, the more effective they can be in dealing with drug temptations, difficulties and discussions. Children and young people in general must know more than just one side of the story, since most of their information comes from others who favor drug experimentation, usually those in their own age group.

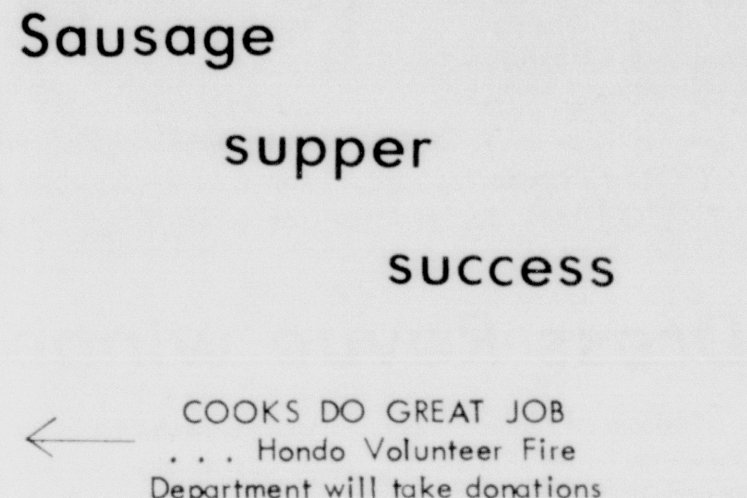

Of course, this department will be happy to assist any parental group wishing to embark on a drug education program. Don't miss my article next week.

This week

That's all she wrote

by Edna McDade

As I peck out these scattering remarks I am suddenly aware that this date, June 25, is exactly half-past Christmas, 1970. A reminder to do our Christmas shopping early -- and to do as much of it in Hondo as we can, or in our county-neighborhood centers which also have much to offer.

Summer has definitely arrived here but with intermittent rains and the farmers are pleading for some hot, sunny weather. If you could manage to transfer any surplus from Medina County, same should be gratefully received, I'm sure.

Also, the dreaded Southern corn leaf blight has hit nine Pa. counties, including Lancaster. Farmers are being urged to "walk" their crops and report any threatened spread. The fungus is said to come from localized debris in no-till and minimum-till fields and from the shelling of cribbed corn.

This is a special thank-you to the Hondo Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, who are sponsoring the summer Story Hour at our public library which is under the dedicated attention of LOTTIE MAW.

Story-telling is an art and this offers an excellent opportunity for young mothers to share their talents and to study the reactions of their assorted attentive and sometimes wriggly listeners.

For these never-a-dull-moment audiences, this expresses appreciation to JAN OEFINGER, LINDA SCHMIDT, MARY JO SCHWEERS and DOROTHY YANTA who piloted some of the June programs.

And, speaking (or writing) of libraries, my own modest one has gained status with the recent gift to me of Miss CARMEN PERRY's "San José de Palafox" a documented chronicle of the establishment and annihilation of that villa which was established in the early 1800s. My treasured copy is No. 148 of the first special edition of 200.

Miss Perry, who translated and edited the significant contribution to Texas history, is presently archivist at St. Mary's University, SA. Our friendship dates back to WWII days (Office of Censorship) and to our later participation in several Great Books programs where she actively "participated" and I was (mostly) an awe-struck but eager listener.

My own memory of "Palafox", which is in Webb County and near Laredo, includes only a fragment of recollection of occasional conversations among my elders about the mysterious history of the place. Now I can "read all about it", with special pride that its gifted editor-translator is my dear friend.

Although my status as a "sports fan" might not rate very high, I am among the top enthusiasts when one of our own Medina County boys grows up to become a successful athlete.

So it is that I share with BONNARD and STELLA ROTHE of D'Hanis, their parental pride in their son, WALT, who is APSWC's selected "Baseball Player of the Year". Play ball!

The traditional "ol' rockin' chair" might not have "got" FRANK HOLDEN but I am among his many friends who wish for him happy years of retirement and complete enjoyment of his new easy chair to help him catch up with at least 33 years of not too much "sitting".

Me no speak Injun but, in plain English, I am delighted with the honor conferred by our Camp Fire Girls on WARD (Mrs. Camp Fire, Inc.) POPE, by having named their new lodge -- either CAMP WARD or CAMP POPE, I couldn't tell which from the sign, my translating know-how of Indian signs being mostly NOT-How.

Before the grapevine starts scandal, I might as well confess that I have been recognized as a "Pusher". The "dope" is this:

My daily walks often lead by one of several playgrounds for the children in Olde Hickory Village. I always stop for a short visit, the delights of which are unpredictable. Usually, I have a string of small folk tagging along for at least part of my walk.

One morning three pinafore-d lovelies were struggling to get going in their wings. "Our legs won't reach. Will you please be our Pusher?" they pleaded.

My reward was their happy laughter and this compliment, "You are a better pusher than our own grandmother 'cause she always says she gets tired too quick".

Getting tired is what rest is for -- afterward, I've discovered!

Hondo Cub Scouts Thrilled

Several weeks ago this group of Hondo Cub Scouts, Den 1, Pack 219 to be exact, received a thrill of a lifetime by visiting the 433rd Military Airlift Wing (Reserve) at Kelly AFB in San Antonio and seeing the "big planes". They were taken through the C-130 Hercules and the C-124 Globemaster, which can be seen behind the group. Getting this bundle of energy to sit still long enough for a picture by TSgt David Jacobs of the 433rd Wing Information office managed to get the above picture. It shows Cub

Social Security

File for Medicare before reaching 65th birthday

QUESTION: I am 64 and still working. Do I have to wait until after my 65th birthday to sign up for Medicare?

ANSWER: No, you should file your claim for Medicare in one of the three months before the month you are 65. We suggest that you call the social security office now to find out what information and evidence you will need when you sign up for Medicare.

QUESTION: I will soon be old enough to get social security checks but I have trouble getting transportation to your office. Can I handle everything in one trip?

ANSWER: By telephoning the office before your visit you can find out exactly what information will be needed to file your claim. In fact, you may be able to handle the matter by telephone, making a visit to the social security office unnecessary.

QUESTION: I need to know how many days of hospital coverage I have left in case I need to return to the hospital this month. Can you get me this information?

ANSWER: You will receive this information automatically when you get an explanation of the payment made for your last period of hospitalization. Meanwhile, we can obtain this information for you but we will need your Medicare number as it appears on your Medicare card - nine digits followed by a letter. Always give this number when inquiring about your record.
